

6 Reasons Your Ambulatory Care Sites Need to Outsource EVS

1. Streamline Patient Throughput

To maintain both patient satisfaction and profitability, patient throughput must be optimized.

The latest technology can:

- Decrease turnaround timing
- Improve team training
- Increase cleaning speed

2. Raise Your Scores

CG-CAHPS scores are increasingly being used as a measurement to score your ASC locations.

A fully-integrated EVS program can:

- Provide high-touch patient engagement to increase satisfaction
- Drive QA processes that ensure positive patient experience

3. Inspire Happier Caregivers

Today's healthcare workers are increasingly stressed and burdened with non-clinical related tasks.

A progressive outsource provider brings:

- Innovative solutions that help drive caregiver engagement
- Collaboration that enables nurses to focus on giving care
- Access to perks that foster positive work environments

4. Break the Chain of Infection

Infectious outbreaks can occur in non-acute care settings just as easily as in acute care.

An EVS partner with stringent protocols can deliver:

- Quality assurance measures that meet performance outcomes
- Processes and protocols that reduce the spread of HAI's and viruses

5. Leverage the Latest Technologies

Few healthcare organizations can afford staying current with facilities management innovations.

An innovative EVS partner has early access to the latest:

- Robotics, IoT, remote sensors and touchless technologies
- Innovations that increase efficiencies while maximizing current labor

6. Gain Cost Optimization

Facilities management and EVS can be among your largest expenses especially for maintaining your own non-acute care locations.

A strong EVS partner will help you optimize costs through:

- Energy management
- Employee training
- Purchasing power
